Jacobs: I was out there for that one. I was a delegate and his speech to me was so, so devastating. I cried. I don't cry that easy but I did cry, and I thought he did an excellent job and I thought, "You know what? Young man, you just opened the door for something great." I'd never heard a speech that was as well-delivered, as well-written, as that speech. And don't ask me, "What was it that ... my trigger on it" I don't remember, but I just remember it was one hell of a speech.
